DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakata et al. in view of Official Notice. Nakata et al. discloses the claimed invention except for Nakata et al. fails to disclose the positional relationship of the evaporator and heater. It is probably more than likely that the evaporator of Nakata et al. is arranged rearward of the heater as claimed considering the conventional nature of this arrangement; and if not, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the evaporator of Nakata et al. to be arranged rearward of the heater in order to provide a conventional well known arrangement thereof.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Shuttleworth et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakata et al. in view of Tauber. Nakata et al. discloses the claimed invention except for shielding portion. Tauber teaches that it is known to provide a damper with a shielding portion as set forth at column 2, lines 47-51. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the damper of Nakata et al. with a hollow sealing section, as taught by Tauber for its intended purpose.

3. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakata et al. in view of Tauber as applied to claim 5 above, and further in view of Erickson. Further, Nakata et al. discloses the claimed invention except for a detent mechanism. Erickson teaches that it is well known to provide a damper with detent mechanism as set forth at column 4, lines 40-43. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the damper of Nakata et al. with the levered detent mechanism, as taught by Tauber in order to hold the damper in position.

4. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Nakata et al. or Shuttleworth et al. Nakata et al. or Shuttleworth et al. discloses the claimed invention except Nakata et al. or Shuttleworth et al. does not teach an openable window. It is well known that the window of Nakata et al. or Shuttleworth et al. is more likely openable. Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made for the window of Nakata et al. or Shuttleworth et al. to be openable in view of this well known feature in work vehicle cabin for its obvious purpose.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. Claims 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 5 recites the limitation "the other member" in line 23.

Specification

6. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Claims 6 and 7 recite the limitation "'a plurality of ... being un-bonded" in the claims. There is insufficient antecedent basis found in the specification for this limitation.

Drawings

7. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the limitations of claims 6 and 7 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Priority

8. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
